Russians Charge Transport Attacked By American Jet

Berlin, Nov. 15.—(P)—The Russians charged tonight that an American jet fighter attacked one of their transport planes as it was flying over Germany with a distinguished passenger.

The passenger was French communist leader Maurice Thorez, whom the Russians flew from Paris to Moscow last Saturday for medical treatment.

The plane was the private plane of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky. It was Vishinsky's C-47 which the Russians had sent to Paris to pick up Thorez, who suffered a brain hemorrhage.

A note from the Soviet Control commission in eastern Germany charges that the plane was about 30 miles from Frankfurt, in the American zone, when it was attacked by the American jet fighter, an F-84 Thunder Jet.

The Russians say the Thunder jet was about 33 feet under the right wing of the Soviet transport when the pilot opened fire. They say the jet then zoomed 50 feet ahead of the Soviet plane and made a sharp turn. Finally, according to the Russians, the pilot turned around and flew back towards their plane.

The note says that serious danger to the plane and its passengers was avoided only by what it calls "the cleverness of the Soviet pilot." The Russian transport disappeared into the clouds, the note continues, just as the American jet was heading back towards it.

The note calls the incident an "international provocation, all the more so since the American authorities had previously been informed of the flight and since they had given the corresponding security guarantees."

The note is signed by the head of the Russian occupation commission in Germany and was delivered to American High Commissioner John McCoy. There was no immediate comment from the American authorities.

PAROLE-JUMPING KLAN LEADER RETURNS TO JAIL

Indianapolis, Nov. 15.—(P)—The man who once said "I am the law in Indiana," is back behind bars today.

Police arrested the fugitive, former Indiana Ku Klux Klan leader D. C. Stephenson, in Minneapolis. Stephenson was wanted since Aug. 30 when he jumped parole and disappeared.

The one-time Klan leader was paroled last March by Gov. Henry Schricker after serving 25 years of a life imprisonment sentence for murder.

On hearing of Stephenson's capture, the governor said that this time the former Klansman is going back to prison to stay.

ATTEMPT TO BURN POST OFFICE FAILS

New York, Nov. 15.—(P)—New York police have arrested a man for questioning in connection with gasoline-soaked papers found lying against a hot radiator in a Bronx post office.

They say the man had gas-soaked papers in his possession, and they quote him as saying he intended to burn the post office. He says he is a member of the Puerto Rican Nationalist party.

FEDERAL HEALTH FUNDS REACH $44,300 FOR STATE

Helena, Nov. 15.—(P)—Announcement of the Montana allotment of Federal health funds for the 1950-51 fiscal year has been received by Dr. G. D. Carlyle Thompson of the Montana State Board of Health. The notice of funds was sent from the medical director of the U. S. Public Health service in Denver. Dr. Thompson says the Montana allotment totals $344,300 as compared with $498,942 for last year. This does not include the federal allotment for mental hygiene which in Montana is made to the state hospital. The tuberculosis control allotments were increased this year, while all others decreased. The greatest cut was made in the hospital construction program in the amount of $145,499.

HUNGRY HORSE WORK STOPPED BY WINTER

Kalispell, Nov. 15.—(P)—Winter has forced a shutdown of concrete pouring at Hungry Horse dam. Prime contractors for the job, General Shea-Morrison, say concrete work on the powerhouse foundation will continue for a time, but general concrete operations on the dam itself will be suspended until spring.

Crewmen poured the last concrete in the dam last Wednesday. At that time, the millionth cubic yard went in the huge structure.

Cromwell, Hardin Awarded Leads in Masquers' 'Liliom'

Charles Cromwell of Coeur d'Alene, Ida., will appear in his first major production when he stars in "Liliom," Nov. 27 through Dec. 2. As the hero, Liliom, he plays a shiftless young ne'er-do-well and bully of Budapest; he is the pet and pride of a rowdy merry-go-round, where he works intermittently as barker.

Cromwell, majoring in English, is a junior at the University. He transferred to MSU from North Idaho Junior college last year. Before attending North Idaho he served with the Marine corps.

His former stage experience at the University consists of a supporting role in last year's "There Shall Be no Night" as a German doctor. He also played in one of this summer's one-act plays.

Story of Play

Liliom is caught in his first highway robbery and stabs himself with the stolen knife he had brought along for the heart of the playmaster whose satchel he was after. In the magistrate's court in heaven, they see through him—they know the reasons behind his deeds, and they know what repentance is in his heart though he is too much the cocky old Liliom to admit it or make any plea for himself. After fifteen years of penitence in the purifying fires, he is allowed to come back to earth for one hour and do one good deed before he departs forever.

Joan Hardin, Missoula, Liliom's leading lady, last appeared before MSU audiences as the lead in the play "Antigone." Prior to that she played Mrs. Gibson in "Our Town," the Red Queen in "Alice in Wonderland," and a supporting role in "Life With Father."

Enjoys New Part

Miss Hardin said she thoroughly enjoys the role of the patient, loving, inarticulate Julie, the 18-year-old girl who marries Liliom. She stated that although Julie is a subdued person, she is also an intense one, and Miss Hardin feels that as the play progresses, there is a great deal of room for the character of Julie to develop.

Miss Hardin, a junior, is a drama major and plans to teach in that field after graduation. She gained acting experience in high school in four productions, among them "Joan of Arc."

Charity Ball Scheduled For Dec. 2

The annual Crippled Children's association charity ball is scheduled for Dec. 2 in the Student Union building.

Mrs. Norman Gulbrandsen, Missoula chairman of the association, has announced that $1 tickets for the dance will be sold in the Student Union building. The $1 ticket is a special rate for high school and university students. Single admissions can be had for 50 cents plus tax.

The dance is given in Missoula each year to raise funds with which to purchase physical therapy equipment. The association bought $4,233.87 worth of machinery in 1950.

Mrs. D. J. Emblem, campus chairman, is in charge of sales by the ROTC Sponsor corps and wives of faculty members. The ticket drive opened yesterday when faculty were asked to buy tickets.

Inertia Scuttles The Traffic Plan

Approximately one year ago a student-faculty committee began work on a plan for control of campus traffic. Within a short time a preliminary draft was completed and presented to Central board. That body gave the proposals serious consideration, suggested a number of changes, and returned the plan to the committee.

The traffic committee completed the revised proposals and again submitted a comprehensive campus traffic plan to the board. Last spring Central board stamped its okay on the outline and sent it on to the faculty for final approval. Since that time, the much-needed traffic plan has been bouncing back and forth like a ping-pong ball between the faculty and Central board.

The proposals call for definite and clearly marked no-parking areas, a patrol to nab violators, and a fine system. For a number of valid reasons, the faculty group disapproves fines on staff members. For equally valid reasons, the board feels that no traffic plan will work unless it is applied straight across the board to all campus car owners.

The result is a deadlock and continued chaos.

Perhaps the proposed system is not the best. In that case, it is up to both parties to see that some workable plan is evolved instead of playing handball with the present proposals. Specifically, it should be up to the faculty to suggest a practical system if they find this student-sponsored plan unworkable.

Some type of traffic control is needed on campus. Is it necessary to wait until an accident forces adoption of an enforceable program?—D.G.

MARGARET TANGE

"Migsie" Tange, Outlook, enters the queen race this year as the first candidate ever sponsored by the Men's "M" club. A blonde with hazel eyes, "Migsie" stands 5 feet 8½ inches tall, and is a second-quarter freshman majoring in fine arts. She is a member of Alpha Phi sorority.

DIANE WETHERALL

MENTAL HYGIENE GROUP WILL HEAR DAVID BRODY

Problem children and methods used to treat them were discussed at a meeting of the Mental Hygiene society Tuesday night. A film, "The Quiet One," was shown, with explanatory comments by Dr. G. V. Holmes, psychiatrist.

Students present listed the dating problems which they considered particularly prevalent at MSU. These problems will be given special emphasis Thursday night, when David Brody, director of the university counselling center, will lead the discussion.

The journalism school began its life in 1914 housed in tents.

Veterans Recalled To Active Duty Must Notify V.A.

Veterans recalled to active duty should notify the Veterans Administration immediately, C. N. Lindsay, Missoula contact representative, said yesterday.

Those recalled should do this so their benefit payments, which include the G.I. Bill of Rights or Public Law 16 subsistence allowances and disability payments can be stopped. The law doesn't permit a veteran to receive such V.A. payments once he goes back into uniform, Lindsay stated.

If a veteran receives such a payment after he reports back to the armed services, he should return it to the V.A. office which has his records. Otherwise, until disposed of, it is an overpayment against him.

The notification to the V.A. of recall should include the veteran's "C" number, his name and address, the amount of the payment, and the date he is to go back into the service.

Butte Swindle Termed Low Trick by Police

Butte, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Butte authorities have related what they term as a "despicable story." It involves an unknown young man who duped a Butte resident out of funds to take care of a fake out-of-state burial service for his mother. The chisler told the unsuspecting man his mother died in the Northwest Airlines crash near Butte last week, and that he had hitchhiked to the Mining City to take care of the shipment of the body and burial services. After the Butte man gave the "down and out" youth the money, he found out his mistake. There was no such name of so-called "dead mother" on the passenger list, and no body was shipped to the town where the burial was supposed to take place. Butte police say that's about the lowest trick a swindler can pull.

35TH ANNUAL SYMPHONIC CONCERT SET FOR DEC. 3

MSU's symphony orchestra will present its 35th traditional concert Dec. 3, according to Robert Sutton, music school instructor.

H. A. Weisberg, who started the annual concert when a professor here 35 years ago, has been asked to conduct a portion of the concert.

Mr. Sutton will play a cello solo as part of the evening's program.

KUOM was the university radio station built in Simpkins hall in 1924 on $1,800.

Grants Available For Mexico Study

Students should see me immediately if they are interested in securing a grant for study in Mexico," Dr. B. E. Thomas of the modern languages department said.

Applications are available in Dr. Thomas' office and should be turned in to him as soon as possible.

Law School Plans Annual Smoker

Law school alumni and faculty have been invited to a smoker at the law school Friday night at 8 o'clock to join with the law students for the annual get-together.

Governor Bonner and the supreme court justices have been asked to attend.

Dick Conklin, Great Falls, and Bill Walterskirchen, Missoula, entertainment chairmen, are planning a short skit involving an imitation of the professors by the students.

Homarts Receive Special Instruction

Homarts club members continued work on their quarter's projects of glove construction and textile painting at a meeting in the Natural Science building last night at 7:30, Catherine Sweeney, Belt, president, announced yesterday.

Mrs. Don Matthews, Missoula, is instructing in textile painting class and Mrs. LaVerne Olsen, instructor in home ec, is leading a group in glove construction. The class is working on both fabric and leather gloves, enabling the students to teach the course in home administration after graduation.

The glove construction group is closed for the quarter but there are still openings in textile painting.

Members are requested to bring dues, Miss Sweeney said. All home economics majors and minors are eligible to join.

Government Rules Affect G.I. Leave

A new regulation for buying back leave has been received by the registrar's office, according to Mrs. Emma Lommason, assistant registrar.

The regulation affects veterans who want to buy back leave already taken so they can finish school under G.I. entitlement.

Formerly veterans could buy back fractional parts of leave. They will have to buy fifteen days under the new ruling, Mrs. Lommason said.

Veterans earn 15 days' leave for each nine months spent in school. They can either take the leave as it is earned or it can be accrued and used for additional schooling.

The Associated Student store was started in 1919 with $900.

Homecoming Hop To Honor Alumni, Aid Charity Fund

Montana's Homecoming dance in the Gold room of the Student Union Saturday from 9 to 12 will serve two purposes. It will honor the returning alumni and it will act as the student's charity ball for crippled children.

Chairmen from the ASMSU social committee will handle the details of the dance. Hal Anderson, Missoula, is in charge of ticket sales and technical equipment. Janice Ludwig, Kalispell, will secure chaperones for the dance.

Refreshments will be the responsibility of Mary Jo Peterson, Missoula. Yvonne Kind, Missoula, will plan the decorations. Margaret Jesse, Missoula, is publicity chairman.

Ticket prices are low so that everybody can attend with either a date or stag. The price is 40 cents stag and 80 cents a couple.

"The dance will have several features which have never been tried here before," Miss Kind said. "Everyone should come out and give it a try. We are pretty sure you will be surprised and pleased."

FUTURE GRIZZLY GRIDDEES END SEASON

Shown above are the twenty-seven freshmen who ended up their season last Saturday with a 19-0 win over the Bobkittens on Dornblaser field. The frosh had a season record of 2 wins against 1 loss. They lost to the University of Idaho freshmen and won both games from the Kittens. They are, left to right:

Grizzlies Sharpen Up for Aggie Homecoming Fray

Coach Ted Shipkey continued to sharpen his gridders for the Utah State game in workouts this week. Shipkey said that he is taking one game at a time, especially after the Nevada upset of the Grizzlies.

The Logan, Utah school comes to Missoula Saturday to play the Silvertips in the Montana Homecoming game and from all indications the game should be a good one.

Both Utah State and Montana have met many of the same teams during the 1950 grid season. Washington State college walloped the Aggies by a 46-to-6 score while the Grizzlies lost to the WSC eleven by a 14-to-7 margin. The Montana State college Bobcats were defeated by a 34-to-6 score by the Logan boys and Montana blanked the Cats, 33 to 0.

However, the Grizzly team was upset by the Nevada Wolfpack, 19 to 14, while Utah State eked out a 7-to-6 win over the Reno eleven.

It is the opinion of Shipkey that the Utah Staters will be trying very hard to dump his club, as the Aggies have won but two of nine games this year. It also would serve as a consolation prize for the cellar dwellers of the Skyline conference.

Ray Bauer, Bob Byrne, and Paul Wolf have not been worked too hard this week, as they are being given time to recover from injuries.

Yes, MSU expects to throw everything it has against the Aggies in an attempt to win the 1950 Homecoming grid fray. Last year was not exactly a pleasant Homecoming game for followers of the Silvertips. Idaho's Vandals rolled over the Grizzly team by a 47-to-19 score in that particular game.

Weather conditions may slow the Montana aerial attack in Saturday's tilt.

If the Grizzlies are forced to go to the ground to get yardage they will have several good backs ready to carry the mail.

Eight Deaths Mar Montana Hunt Season

Helena, Nov. 15.—(P)—Montana's hunting death toll stood at eight dead and four missing today at the end of the regular big game hunting season. Searchers are still probing the snow-covered wilderness in two areas for missing hunters.

Ground parties, one outfitted with bloodhounds, went into the Little Belt mountains at dawn today to begin the third day of searching for Corporal Calvin Beebe and Sgt. Thomas Hart, airmen from Great Falls Airbase who have been missing since Sunday.

And in Southwestern Montana, Emil Mikus, a Dillon hunter, still has not been found. Mikus has been missing since last Thursday, and searchers hopes for finding the man alive have dimmed. The eighth hunting fatality occurred near Missoula. Seventeen-year-old Robert Brown was killed instantly when a 30-30 rifle accidentally discharged, sending a bullet through his chest. The Missoula high school youth was on a hunting trip 10 miles from the Garden City with two other youths when a rifle belonging to one of the boys jarred and went off while the group was resting on a hillside.

"Swede" Dahlberg, Butte coach, was the first M club president.

Thoughts While Rolling

BY BILL WALKER

We boarded the Resort Air Lines' "Suncruiser" (Curtiss C-46) at Missoula Municipal airport after having trouble starting the left engine. Wes Morrison, Grizzly tackle, rung life into it with the hand crank.

Upon disembarking at Reno, Shipkey ran the boys through a series of calisthenics.

We took a Greyhound bus into Reno and found that the highway was bordered with motels, gambling joints, and night clubs.

The team went on a short tour of Reno's gambling places. Principally inspected were the world famous Harold's club, and the Bank club.

The Grizzlies had many supporters in Reno. I suspect they lost more than their faith Saturday.

Three faithful members of the Grizzly Booster club flew down with us:

Oscar Lympus, Missoula attorney, held one of the ends of the chain at the game, and has an idea or two why the Grizzlies lost the game.

Floyd Hober was a great help at all times before and after the game, and felt that Montana played a clean and honorable game.

Orn Dishman also sat on the bench with the team, and wanted to suit up as the game wore on, but Shipkey figured he was a couple years too old.

Mrs. Shipkey went along, and lent moral support to the team, and to Ted in particular after the discouraging loss to Nevada.

We returned to Missoula Sunday afternoon, and were met by a few of the boys' wives and girl friends. You could look for miles on the snow-covered landscape and not see a sign of a "win or lose, we love you anyway" gang of rooters.

Saturday's sad and pitiful sight: Up until late in the evening Tommy Kingsford was in a daze, and it was hard to convince him we had not won by a score of 14 to 13. Who says football is all free trips and good food?

Would anybody have traded places with Tommy in that fateful fourth quarter with the score 19 to 14, deep in Nevada territory, and him playing on instinct and an ample cargo of good old unfancy guts?

Dick Moomaw's parents were at the game. They borrowed Dick Reed's portable radio and listened to the California-UCLA game while they viewed the local game. Don Moomaw, outstanding player on the Bruin eleven, is Dick's brother.

John White's folks and Bob Leonard's mother came all the way from Southern California for the game.

MSU Rifle Club Defeats Idaho U In Postal Match

The ROTC rifle team gathered 1,870 points to defeat the University of Idaho in postal competition last week.

Idaho totaled 1,818 points. The MSU team also fired against the University of Oklahoma and South Dakota State but the results from these two teams have not been received.

Two perfect scores, both in the sitting position, were racked up by Ralph Julian, Flandreau, S. D., and Buddy Campbell, Superior. Julian also posted an individual high score of 379.

During the week the squad fires from four positions—prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. On Saturday the individual scores are compiled and the five best are used in competition with other colleges.

O'Loughlin Issues Red Snuggles To Grid Hemen

Carl O'Loughlin, equipment manager in the athletic department, handed out new equipment to the varsity football men on Monday. The move was prompted by the change in climate between Nevada and Montana.

Every player was issued a warm union suit to wear under his regular football suit.

Hendry Watt, Formosa Beach, Calif., who plays offensive center, took several long looks at his new suit and then asked "What is it? How do you know which end goes to the front?"

Gordon Stewart, Forsyth, already crammed into a bright red set of "longies," showed Hendry and the other California boys how to put the suits on.

WORLD'S RECORD SET

New York, Nov. 15.—(P)—J. M. Seider's "Royal Castle" set a new world's record in winning the $20,000 Daingerfield handicap today at Jamaica. Telephone Strike Crisis Unchanged; Pickets Revolt

Chicago, Nov. 15—(U)—The long lines division of the American Telephone and Telegraph company may take steps to maintain its service despite the strike.

The A T and T says, if necessary, it will hire replacements for union operators who refuse to cross picket lines to report for work. The company adds that the hiring of new personnel is a measure which must be faced if the present situation continues.

The president of the CIO-Communications Workers, Joseph Beirne, promptly announced he'll turn over what he called "this evidence" to the United States Labor committee. He said it would "clearly" establish what he called the phone company's "long-standing anti-labor policy."

At present some 15,000 long lines operators are idle as the result of the strike.

Earlier today, tempers flared on the picket lines around the Bell Telephone company office in Philadelphia. The flare-up came when 150 pickets tried to break up a police line escorting non-union workers into the building. It was the first attempt by the strikers to picket exchanges manned by non-union employees. Similar action took place in New York, but there was no violence.

The Chinese Communists took advantage of the strike for propaganda purposes. The Communist radio in Peiping reports that Chinese Communication workers have telegraphed their support to American strikers. The Chinese told the strikers to "resolutely oppose capitalist exploitation."

Theta Sig, which now has 75 active chapters, was founded at the University of Washington in 1909, Mrs. Wickes said. Among other services, TSP alums maintain a placement bureau for Theta Sig members.

Mrs. James L. C. Ford, alum adviser, and members of the local Theta Sig chapter were introduced. Prizes were presented to Miss Persons, who won a names game, and Leona Facincani, Butte, winner of an advertisement-recognition game.

Earlier, another scuffle broke out between pickets and police in Philadelphia. The skirmish came as police tried to escort non-striking operators into the building. There were no arrests.
